

TEUTON OFFENSIVES IN ITALY AND WEST FAIL

ALLIED DEFENSE BREAKS DOGGED SPIRIT OF HUNS

Enemy Falters Before Deadly Fire of the Allied Guns

DEAD CLOG THE FIELDS

Only Along Piave River Are Austrians Trying to Push Ahead; Held in Mountain Region

THE AUSTRIANS CROSS FOSSALTA

But Italians Deny It—German Attack Near Rheims Ends in Disaster and Many Casualties

The Teutonic allies apparently have lost their spirit of do or die. Their attacks everywhere lately have lacked the tenaciousness of the days gone by.

Instead of plowing through the Allied lines with stubborn indifference to casualties so long as an objective was gained, they now waver and then halt in the face of the artillery and rifle fire of the men barring their way and with the point they were trying to gain still far beyond their reach.

Offensives Appear as Failures.

Ambitious attempts by the troops of Central Powers in the past few weeks have proven this. The opening of a gateway to Paris through the western front running from Montdidier to the Marne failed completely, the offensive on the Italian battle line launched by the Austrians seemingly has failed miserably in the mountain regions and apparently has almost been stopped along the Piave while a stroke started by the Germans against Rheims broke down in its inception without the enemy taking a yard of territory.

And in the various attempted enterprises the high command of the Germans and Austro-Hungarian armies have seen their men literally moved until the battlefield has been clogged with dead or wounded as recompense to the allied troops for the small bits of territory they yield.

The Austrian offensive in the Italian theatre is still in progress along the Piave river, but in the mountain region after the sharp reaction by the Italian, British and French troops, who in counter attacks pushed back the invaders from the points he had reached in his initial rush, the enemy evidently is fearful of again trying out the mettle of the defenders.

On the Piave numerous attempts have been made by the Austrians to gain further bridgeheads on the western bank of the stream but the Italians everywhere are holding them with their gun fire and also doing sanguinary execution within the ranks of the enemy across the river with bombs and machine gun fire.

Italians Claim 9,000 Prisoners.

The Austrian war office asserts that the Austro-Hungarian troops have crossed the Fossalta canal at some points where Tuesday it was claimed that they had made advances and also that several Italian lines at the southern foot of the Montello plateau, the key of the Venetian plains, have been pierced. Rome, on the other hand, declares that all the weak attempts made in the Montello region were completely repulsed. More than 5,000 men have been taken by the Italians since the offensive began and many guns and several hundred machine guns have been captured. That intensive air fighting has also taken place is shown by the fact that 50 enemy planes have been shot down. Only two of the allies machines have failed to return to their bases.

The attack of the Germans near Rheims resulted disastrously to them. Hardly had they left their trenches after one of the most terrific bombardments with shells of all calibre including gas projectiles, ever experienced on the western front, nearly 4,000 men were faced by the reinforced French army and literally cut to pieces and forced to fall back precipitately. Only at one point to the east of the Rheims, did the enemy succeed in penetrating the French lines. Here they were ejected almost immediately. The German official communication describes the attack as a demonstration of artillery and mine throwers.

Little activity has prevailed on the remainder of the western front, except the usual reciprocal bombardments and operations in the nature of patrol engagements. The success of the recent naval attack by the British on the German submarine base at Zeebrugge seemingly was more suc-

No Permanent Peace Until Militarism Is Wiped Out

Viscount Grey, in Pamphlet on League of Nations, Says Civilization Rocks On Whether Lessons of War Shall Be Learned

London, England, June 19.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press.)—The widest interest will be evinced in a pamphlet on "the league of nations," written by Viscount Grey of Fallodon, who was secretary of foreign affairs in the cabinet of Herbert H. Asquith at the beginning of the European war.

"There is more at stake in the war than the existence of individual states or empires or the fate of a continent," says Viscount Grey. "The whole of modern civilization is at stake and whether it will perish and be submerged, as has happened to previous civilization of older types or whether it will live and progress depends upon whether the nations engaged in this war and even those that are onlookers learn the lesson that the experience of the war may teach them."

Effective League of Nations.

Viscount Grey lays down two principal conditions which he says must be fulfilled if the league of nations is to be effective. The first is:

"The idea must be adopted with earnestness and conviction by the executive heads of states. It must become an essential part of their political parties. They must not adopt it only to render such service to the person whom it is convenient to please or ungraciously to displease. They must lead and not follow; they must compel if necessary, and not be compelled. This condition, Viscount Grey thinks, is actually fulfilled as regards the executive head of the United States and is or will be found present as regards the entire governments, while Austria has publicly shown a disposition to accept the proposal and probably may really welcome it as a safeguard for the future not only against bold enemies but against Prussian domination. As long, however, as military rule in Germany continues, Germany will oppose a league of nations, he says.

"Germany has to be convinced that force does not pay, that the aims and policies of her military rulers inflict intolerable and also unnecessary suffering upon her and that when the world is free from the menace of these military rulers with their sharp swords, shining armor and mailed fists, Germany will find peaceful development assured, and preferable to expansion by war, and will realize that the conditions of true security for one nation is absence of security on the part of all nations.

"The Germany feels this to be true, there can be no league of nations in the sense intended by President Wilson. A league such as he desires must include Germany."

DEFENSE OPENS CASE IN TRIAL OF O'LEARY

Objection Made to Climax of Prosecution—Jury May Have Case Tomorrow

New York, June 19.—The government rested its case and the defense opened today at the trial of John J. O'Leary, indicted on a charge of aiding his brother, Jeremiah A. O'Leary, the Sinn Fein leader, to escape from the jurisdiction of the federal court just before he was to have been tried for publishing alleged seditious articles in the Bull, an anti-British magazine. It was indicated that the case might go to the jury Friday.

In opening the case for the defense, Thomas B. Felder objected to the climax which the prosecution was able to give to its presentation of evidence by calling him to the stand while he was acting as counsel for O'Leary. Prosecutor Barnes had questioned Mr. Felder, who until yesterday, when he retired, was also counsel for Jeremiah A. O'Leary, as to whether he knew that the Sinn Fein leader was a fugitive from justice until the eve of his trial. Just before being examined, Mr. Felder had replied that John O'Leary had not intimated to him that Jeremiah might not appear for trial until ten days after he had fled.

Mr. Felder, in his statement, said he intended to show the unblemished character of the defendant and intimated that he might present evidence bearing on Jeremiah's mental condition. Dr. Frank B. Jennings, the first witness called by the defense, testified that he had induced Jeremiah to undergo an operation for chronic appendicitis on April 4 after he had been indicted for articles in the Bull. He said that he had made an affidavit prior to May 5 to the effect that his patient's condition was such as not to permit him to go on trial for at least a month, but he denied that he advised the operation "to stall off the trial."

Successful than anticipated. Twenty-one destroyers, a large number of submarines and numerous auxiliary craft are blocked in the canal by the ships sunk across the water way.

FOUR EMPLOYEES OF GOVERNMENT HELD FOR GRAFT

Charged With Trying to Collect a Bill For $187,000

RANSACK NAVY FILES

Plan Was to State Original Invoice Was Lost and Duplicate Was Needed

SOLDIER HEARS PLOT DETAILS

Proof of Specific Payments of Contingent Fees Has Been Gathered By Department Justice

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Employees of the war and navy departments today were drawn into a net set by the department of justice for war contract brokers through indictments returned by a federal grand jury here, charging four men with trying to collect on a duplicate bill for $187,000 submitted by a drydock company for repairs to a government vessel. The case does not involve contingent fee profiteers, but grew out of the investigation of their practices.

The four indicted are: Clyde C. Waltman, a yeoman in the navy department's bureau of supplies and accounts; Charles E. Waltman, his brother, a business man of Victoria, Va.; Benjamin W. Peake, a soldier, stationed at Fort Meigs, Wash., formerly of Berea, N. C.; and D. Melvin Mowery, a stenographer employed in the signal corps office, formerly of Lancaster, Pa.

Clyde C. Waltman and Mowery, who are room-mates in Washington, are alleged to have conceived a scheme for getting the navy department to pay the same bill twice, and to collect one of the payments through a confederate in the offices of the company rendering the bill. They successfully tested the plan twice, it was charged, but did not try to actually collect the money, and the firm returned the duplicate payment to the government.

Took $187,000 Bill from Files.

Finally, with free access to navy department files, they were said to have obtained a bill for $187,000 rendered April 23 by the Morse Dry Dock and Repair company of New York, for repairs to the government vessel Camandagua, between March 1 and March 15, this year. After the bill was alleged to have been taken from the files, the company was told it was lost and was asked to submit a duplicate, which was paid. Before the men presented the original bill for payment, they were arrested.

The scheme failed, it is said, because the men tried through Peake to get in touch with a confederate in the offices of the dry dock company and an unnamed soldier who heard of the plot informed the government. Charles E. Altman became involved through some correspondence with his brother on the subject. All four men have been arrested and released on bail.

The significance of the disclosure, officials explained, lies in the suspicion that similar attempts to defraud the government may have been planned by others who are expected to take warning from the detection of this alleged conspiracy.

Gather Definite Proof.

Definite proof of specific payments to contingent fee agents was gathered today by Assistant Attorney General Houston Thompson from records seized by secret agents in the raid Monday on these agencies headquarters in Washington.

As a corrective measure, Attorney General Gregory is planning to ask heads of departments letting contracts to assist in co-ordinating their contract work. This is not expected to change radically the system of placing orders or the result in formation of a central government purchasing agency, but it may have the effect of eliminating much of the secrecy now surrounding many war department contracts.

Close scrutiny of all ship building contracts has been under way at the shipping board for two months under the direction of Miles Dawson, a lawyer of New York, who was associated with Charles E. Hughes in the insurance investigation. Commission agents undertook to negotiate some contracts for ship yards, officials said, and a general overhauling of the details of all contracts was decided upon to make certain that they comply with the law.

NEW PROCESS HALTS BUILDING.

Niagara Falls, June 19.—Work on the million dollar plant under construction here and intended to produce chemicals used extensively in the war has been definitely stopped, army officers said today. American chemists, it was said, have perfected a new and better process to produce the chemicals.

Work on the buildings was halted abruptly yesterday when soldiers from Fort Niagara marched in and ordered 200 workmen off the job.

TURKS RANSACK U. S. CONSULATE AT TABRIZ

American Aviators Take Posts on the Italian Front

Washington, D. C., June 19.—The first escadrille of American aviators trained in Italy, started today for the Italian front, and will go into action immediately upon their arrival, the Italian embassy was informed today by cable from Rome. The aviators are accompanied by Capt. LaGuardia, a member of congress, who has been in Italy several months.

"This first contingent," said the cablegram, "is composed entirely of volunteers, representing the finest specimens of American youth. This morning they were received by Commissioner of Aeronautics Chaies and Assistant Secretary of State Gallaga and numerous civil and military authorities.

"After many evidences of solidarity given by the United States, this contribution of their men to our fighting front constitutes a fresh proof of the invaluable support of America, the significance of which is deeply appreciated by the Italian nation."

CONGRESS PUSHES BILL TO RAISE DRAFT AGES

Provost Marshal General's Office Starts Gathering Statistics on Men Available

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Withdrawal by Secretary Baker of his opposition gave fresh impetus today to consideration of the proposal before congress to extend the draft age limit so that the war department will have available at any distant date ample man power to carry out President Wilson's program of an army of unlimited size for the war on Germany.

Officials in the office of Provost Marshal General Crowder immediately began preparations for the statistics showing results which might be expected if the draft is extended to various ages between 15 and 45 years, the limit fixed in a bill by Senator Francis of Maryland, Republican. It is expected that this information will be presented soon to the senate military committee which is considering the France bill.

Early report on the results of the reclassification of men by local boards indicate that more than 250,000 men will be added to class 1 by this means as against the original estimate of 200,000. Operations of Gen. Crowder's work or fight regulations which become effective next July 1 also is expected to add to the total in the first class. Each district is expected to have near the national average of 28.7 percent of its total registration in class 1 when the reclassification has been completed.

These estimates were pointed to today by some officials as bearing out their contention that there is no immediate necessity for changing the age limits. Gen. Crowder, however, does not share this view and recently told the senate military committee that extension of age limit was necessary because at the planned rate of call class 1 would be exhausted early next year.

FRANCO-AMERICAN SECRETARY.

Paris, France, June 19.—Because of the increasing number of American soldiers in France and the increasing degree of American participation in the war, the government has decided to create a new secretariat for Franco-American war co-operation. The new department, which will form part of the Premier's office, will be headed by Captain Andrew Ardiou, who, however, will remain as French high commissioner to the United States. He will divide his time between Paris and Washington.

STOLE 1,200 POUNDS BEEF.

New York, June 19.—Charged with being parties to the theft of more than 1,200 pounds of fresh beef intended for shipment to the American forces in France, George Killian, Frank Kille, Harry Rothman, Joseph Zegas, George Williams, and Theodore Mancino were arraigned here today.

Rothman and Zegas, who are accused by the government with receiving the meat and selling it in their stores on the lower East Side, were held in $10,000 bail each. Bail was fixed at $2,000 each in the case of the others.

LED I. W. W. DEPORTATION.

Bisbee, Arizona, June 19.—Severely arraiging the Industrial Workers of the World, and their sympathizers, and announcing his intention to "protect" his friends, Harry Wheeler, former sheriff of Cochise county, Arizona, now a captain in the United States army, today cabled from France accepting full responsibility for the deportation of I. W. W. members from Bisbee, Arizona, last year.

WILL BAR HUN SOCIALIST.

London, England, June 19.—Piotr Troelsky, the Dutch socialist leader, who, after a conference with Philip Scheidemann, leader of the German socialist party, intended to go to London to attend the annual conference of the British labor congress, will not be permitted to enter England, according to the London Standard. Troelsky, it is said, has been refused passports.

40,000 Peasants, Armed and Organized, Revolt at Kiev

London, England, June 19.—A great revolt has begun at Kiev, according to an intercepted wireless message transmitted from Moscow to the Exchange Telegraph company. Artillery stores have been exploded and there is continuous street fighting. The revolt is spreading to the Poltava and Tchernigov districts. Forty thousand peasants armed and organized are participating in the revolt.

ATTACK HOSPITAL OF MISSIONARIES DECLARES REPORT

Protests of Spanish Consul Ignored By Ottoman Officials

U. S. MAY DECLARE WAR

Advices Are Meager and Later Details May Show Situation Not As Grave As Feared

2 NATIONS LONG ON BAD TERMS

Turkish Ambassador Was Sent Home in 1917 Because of His Sentiments Against America

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Attacks by Turkish troops on the American consulate at Tabriz, Persia, and the looting of an American missionary hospital in that city, reported to the state department today, was believed in some quarters here to presage the long anticipated declaration of the existence of a state of war between the United States and the Ottoman empire. Diplomatic relations between the two governments have been suspended since April 20, 1917, when Turkey withdrew Abdul Hak Hussein Bey, who had been acting as charge of the Turkish embassy here since the compulsory retirement of the regular ambassador, which followed the open criticism of the United States government. Negotiations Ambassador Morgenthau was obliged to leave Constantinople and since that time the relations between the two governments have been just short of actual formal enmity.

Recently there have been vigorous demands in congress for a declaration of a state of war between the United States and Turkey and Bulgaria, but President Wilson and the State department have not regarded this step as necessary or desirable, since there has been no actual collision between American and Turkish and Bulgarian troops.

On the face of the report from American minister Caldwell, at Teheran, officials were inclined to believe that the sacking of the American hospital, a Presbyterian institute, over the protest of the Spanish consul in charge as representative of American interests, furnished the necessary provocation for open hostilities between America and Turkey.

The advices, however, were meager and the minister explained that he was only transmitting reports of matters not of his own knowledge. In view of this it was realized that later reports might show that the offences were not as grave as now represented.

Gordon Paddock, the American consul in that city, reported to the department last May 29, that he and all of the Americans and the British were prepared to leave the city before the advancing Turkish army, consequently it was not believed that Americans actually were molested.

The department is trying to get further information regarding the outrages and probably no action will be taken until these efforts are exhausted. It is realized that it will be difficult to secure additional reports because of the remoteness of the scene and had wire communications.

ORDERED TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Major Gen. Henry A. Greene, who has been in command of the 91st division, national army at Camp Lewis, Wash., has been ordered to report to Washington. No explanation of the order was forthcoming at the war department tonight. Brig. Gen. Frederick S. Feltz has been placed in command at Camp Lewis temporarily.

IRISH PLOT IN AUSTRALIA.

Melbourne, Australia, June 19.—It is announced that the government has caused the arrest of seven ring-leaders in the Irish Republican brotherhood. It is said the organization planned to enroll volunteers and send them to Ireland to aid in an armed revolt with the object of establishing an Irish republic.

WAR STAMPS AND BABIES.

Brand Whitlock, our minister to Belgium when the German hordes first entered that martyred country, and for three long years thereafter, is now telling us of some of the things that happened during that crisis of German lust. He writes in "Everybody's" as follows:

"It was on that Sunday morning of the 13th, the Germans that swarmed down the Friedrau road, entered the quarter of Peasant, arrested the inhabitants and took them to the Rocher Bayard. The people were held there, evidently as a screen, while the Germans began to construct a temporary bridge over the river. The French were on the other side, and now and then they shot at the soldiers working there. The Germans, annoyed by the spitting, irregular fire, sent a citizen of Dismant, one of the prisoners, in a boat across the river to inform the French that unless they ceased firing the civilians would be shot. M. made his dangerous voyage, accomplished his mission, and returned to take his place among his fellows. But a few stray bullets still sped across the river.

"Then was committed the atrocious crime. The prisoners were massed together, nearly 90 of them, old men and young, women, girls, and boys, little children, and babies in their mothers' arms. A platoon was called up; the colonel in command gave the word to fire, and the gray soldiers, in cold blood, shot down those 90 persons as they stood huddled there together. Among them were 12 children under the age of six years, six of whom were little babies, whose mothers, as they stood up to face their pitiless murderers, held them in their arms.

"The six babies were the child Elvett, three weeks old; Nellie Pollet, 11 months old; Maurice Beremps, 11 months old; Gilda Genen, 18 months old; Gilda Marchot, two years old, and Clara Sruway, two years old.

"Evening came; the soldiers were fumbling among the mass of dead. Some were still living; some, by a miracle, were uninjured. And these were dragged from the pile of bodies and made to dig a pit and to tumble into it the bodies of the victims of the tragedy, their relatives, their neighbors, and their friends."

There are 2,000,000 reasons why every American should buy War Savings Stamps.

There are 2,000,000 American babies under two years of age.

HIS RETIREMENT REGRETTED.

The last issue of the National Republican, a leading newspaper of Washington, D. C., and one which has a wide-spread circulation throughout the country, has the following which will be read with interest by the constituents of Congressman Fairchild in Oneonta and throughout the district:

"The announcement of George W. Fairchild, of the 34th New York district, that he will retire from congress rather than engage in a scramble for renomination, is received with much regret among those interested in the career of congressmen of experience and ability as a means of public and party service. One of the things that has been overlooked in Republican party leadership in recent years has been that of continuity of public service in the legislative branch of government. The new congressman is like the pioneer 'bound boy at a shuckin'—in no position to exercise much influence until he has learned the ropes." About the time a member of congress reaches his greatest usefulness, it is customary for him to drop out or be dropped, thus losing to his district the asset involved in having an experienced member of congress. The next congress will be one of unusual importance, from both a public and party standpoint, and men like Representative Fairchild, with his high standing among colleagues and his marked ability, should be retained in public life if possible. Congressman Fairchild is serving his sixth term in the house, and was elected last time by a plurality of 12,000.

Auto Accident at Pepacton.

Downsville, June 16.—Rev. H. D. Chase, Rev. J. S. Moore, A. D. Hogan and Arthur Crook, all of Pepacton, were thrown from an auto at Pepacton, Conkling's Cove, Pepacton last Saturday when two autos, having avoided a collision on a high narrow causeway whose limits were hidden from view by the tall grass at the side of the road. The Downsville car dropped over the end of the causeway and down the embankment, but as it turned to half way over and rested on its edge the occupants escaped unhurt except that Mr. Moore and Mr. Chase received a ducking in the creek. The car also was practically unharmed.

Oneonta Plains Red Cross Chapter.

Representatives of the Oneonta chapter of the Red Cross will be at the home of Mrs. D. J. Kilkenny Friday afternoon, June 21, at 3 o'clock, to organize a Red Cross branch for Oneonta Plains. A good attendance is desired.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

As Far as It Goes.

It is good news—so far as it goes—that our all-wise War Industries Board has tackled the trouser-cuff for males and the knee-boot for females. Never, it seemed, had those strange beings who determine styles done as ill-looking and absurd a job as this since the war came to America. Skirts rose, but not as a measure of economy, for boots rose with them and multiplied in color till it seemed as if there were as many shades of boot tops as there were shapes of calves. The waste was appalling.

For the male the style creators apparently took a cloth belt as the symbol of war, and tacked it on anywhere. It is good to know that these small necks have now been officially prohibited, and that the new crops of trousers and coats and waistcoats will be sensibly bare of meaningless and wasteful trappings.

But—suppose some visitor from another world should drop in and want to know why, instead of saving these small per cents of cloth and leather, we didn't go to it and limit the number of suits and pairs of shoes each person could buy in a year? Suppose we not only cut out the little neck-nacks of style, but the whole colossal item of extravagance in dressing? Well, just what would we say? Just what would our all-wise War Industries board say?—[New York Tribune.]

German Guarantees.

The Germans guaranteed safe conduct to a Norwegian ship carrying food to hungry Sweden, but seized the vessel and took it and its cargo to Germany as a prize. The Germans asked through the Pope that the French and British should agree not to bomb Cologne on Corpus Christi day. The Allies agreed, but Germany bombed Paris on that same day. If Germany has left anything undone to prove the worthlessness of her word, it is seemingly an oversight.—[Rochester Post-Express.]

The Claim of the State.

When teachers receive their training in a state normal school, how much of their services are due to the particular state that has educated them? The province of New Brunswick, tired of educating teachers for the benefit of western Canada, has made a rule that all applicants for admission to the provincial normal school must put up a bond for $100 as a guarantee that they will teach in New Brunswick for three years when their training is completed. This is a drastic measure, but obviously there is some justice in it. Salaries in New Brunswick are unsatisfactory, but even so, the province can hardly be blamed for determining to avail itself, for a reasonable time, of the services of those teachers whom it has trained for its schools.—[Springfield Republican.]

Another Cause.

Statisticians tell us that only one man in 1,000,000 dies of overwork. But a good many die of fear of overwork.—[Albany Argus.]

The Name They Should Bear.

There are still those who balk at "Yanks" or "Sammy" as nicknames for the A. E. F. "The Providence Journal" not only balks but tenders a worthy substitute, "The Avengers," which it urges as a true characterization of our cause. It would be hard to find a more accurate word. It is free from the taint of revenge, of harming out of personal resentment; it expresses well the spirit of burning righteousness that sends us forth to "plain, bloody, horrible war," that the future of mankind may be made safe. But will the tongues of the Allies accept "Avengers"? Alas! That is another matter. Nicknames are a thing beyond wisdom or truth or accuracy. We can only cast a vote of approval for "Avengers" and trust to fate.—[New York Tribune.]

MILLIONS FOR TOWN ROADS

County Treasurers Will Receive Liberal Checks This Week From State Comptroller.

Albany, June 19.—Distribution of $2,641,516.37 as the State's annual contribution for the maintenance and repair of town highways will be made this week when State Comptroller Travis will mail to the several county treasurers checks varying in amounts from $11,000 to $112,000. Under the law, the State Comptroller apportions these sums upon the basis of the assessed valuation per mile of the highways in each town. If this valuation is less than $5,000, dollar for dollar is paid.

Otherwise the amount is graduated down to a fifty per cent basis where the valuation of the town is assessed at $10,000 or more per mile. Statements containing the apportionment to the several towns were immediately sent to the county treasurers upon the comptroller being notified as to the filing of the required surety bonds by the supervisors.

The amounts apportioned to Otsego and other counties in this vicinity are as follows: Otsego, $38,930.74; Delaware, $43,000.00; Chenango, $58,515.40; Schoharie, $4,377.95; Broome, $31,544.77.

Want to Remove Richfield Tracks.

The Southern New York Railway corporation wishes to remove its tracks from Lake and Main streets and relay them on a practically straight line south from the station across Main street through the properties of O. D. Getman, Guy Butler, P. R. Martin, Miss Whitman, Mrs. Wm. Conkling, John Purcell, Leslie Brown, estate of L. S. Chase, across the D. L. & W. property, connecting in front of the Bank property with its line on Lake street. It is understood that satisfactory arrangements have been made with all except one property owner concerned, the price asked in this instance being considered too high.—[Mercury.]

AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Some Timely War Books Just Added to City's Excellent Collection.

Armenia, A Martyr Nation, by M. C. Gabriellan, an Armenian by birth and an American by adoption.

Glorious Exploits of the Air, by Edgar Middleton, an "Air Pilot," and a writer on aviation subjects.

Marching on Tanga (with General Smuts in East Africa), by Francis Brett Young.

The library already has a very good collection of nature books, both guide books on birds, flowers, butterflies, trees, etc., and books of fuller description. These are all loaned freely. Recently added are:

Fabre's Insect Adventures, Wild Fruits of the Country Side, Reed's Camera Studies of Wild Birds in their Homes; Dixon's Human Side of Birds; Beard's American Boys' Book of Bugs, Butterflies and Beetles.

One of our readers won a prize recently by identifying the butterflies in her local collection, through the help of these guides.

In this realm of science, F. M. Alexander's new book "Man's Supreme Inheritance" is a noteworthy addition; it deals with the part played by the human body as the conscious guidance and control in man's evolution.

WILL MEET AT NORWICH

Tri-County Business Men's Convention at Chenango's Capital.

The Tri-County Business Men's convention which was held last year in Oneonta will this year take place in Norwich, the exact date not yet having been made.

The Norwich Chamber of Commerce is planning to give those who attend from the three counties represented—Delaware, Otsego and Chenango—a real good time. A program is being arranged, which with the date will be announced later, although it is understood the convention will occur some time in August. Last year the Otsego Chamber of Commerce put on a mammoth clam bake following the exercises in the theatre and was able to attract a goodly number of visitors to Oneonta.

COMPLETE MOVING CITY NOW HEADED THIS WAY

VIEWS OF RINGLING BROS. MAMMOTH CULINARY DEPARTMENT

Ringling Brothers' circus is a perfect city in itself, visiting a different locality almost every day for 120 consecutive days, traveling approximately 5000 miles in a season. For moving without fuss or delay, when annexed to this city Monday, June 24, it will add to the local population a half-hike throng of nearly 1500 people. These will come from every part of the world for the majority of the performers are foreigners and make their first appearance in this country. The circus city will stretch over acres and in addition to its varied herd of elephants, zebras and more than 1,000 wild animals. The circus will come here on so double-headed railroad cars. This circus's main tent is the largest the Ringling Brothers have ever used. It has been built not only to accommodate circus program, but also arranged for the intimate spectacle of knighthood and romance. "In Days of Old" This newly added production requires a vast array of hand-picked bands of dancing girls and tons of special scenery, costumes and electrical effects. This makes necessary the carrying of a stage of tremendous proportions.

One of the most interesting of the several departments is that in charge of the assistants do their "marking" day, and in the city in which the show is to exhibit. For the stock and animal department there are used daily 30 tons of hay, 30 pounds of straw, 300 bushels of oats, which no well-behaved elephant would think of preparing for parade without his morning cereal—a bowl of hay.

How Can I Serve?

There are strange ways of serving God. You sweep a room or turn a sod. And suddenly to your surprise You hear the whirr of seraphim And find you're under God's own eyes And building palaces for Him.

There are strange, unexpected ways Of going soldiering these days; It may be only census blanks You're asked to conquer with a pen. But suddenly you're in the ranks And fighting for the rights of men.

—Hermann Hagedorn.

LOCAL MENTION.

—The Westford Junior Red Cross sent 150 refugee garments, weighing 136 pounds, to Belgium through the Relief commission last Monday.

—The Red Cross requests those who borrowed caps and aprons to wear in the parade on Flag day to please return them as soon as possible.

—Inadvertently yesterday The Star referred to the famous Outcut Valley bird as a pheasant, whereas all local sportsmen who have investigated pronounce it a partridge unquestionably.

—Danforth Bolton, son of Judge and Mrs. W. Irving Bolton, had the misfortune to fracture both bones of the left leg Tuesday afternoon while crossing a board footbridge over the headrace of the Oneonta Milling company. The board broke, permitting the leg to fall through. Some companions assisted him to the bank and Dr. Lang went with his car and conveyed Danforth to his home. His many friends regret to learn of his misfortune.

Meetings Today.

The W. E. A. O. T. M. Embroidery club will meet with Mrs. James Worthington, 1 Gault avenue, this afternoon. Red Cross work will be done.

Regular meeting of P. P. Cooper Encampment, No. 112, in I. O. O. F. hall, this evening at 8 o'clock.

L. C. E. A. meeting tonight. The new rates will be discussed. All members are requested to be present. There will be an important business meeting of the Girl Scouts this afternoon at 5 o'clock at 17 Franklin street. Bring all financial reports.

Regular meeting of Oneonta aerie, No. 1260, F. O. E., at Macabee hall. Election of secretary.

Regents' Program For Today.

With all other work suspended at the high school until next week, the students are now tussling with Regents' examinations, some finding them easy, others difficult.

Today's program follows: Morning at 9:15—Biology, physiology and hygiene, history of the English language and literature, physics, commercial English and correspondence, chemistry.

Afternoon at 1:15—Economics, civics, French 3 and 4, plane geometry, typewriting.

Lady Chasers at Theatre.

Due to the scarcity of help on account of so many of our younger generation serving with the colors, the management of the Oneonta theatre has decided to install lady attendants, starting next Monday. In this respect Oneonta has been behind the times, as there are but few theatres throughout the country which have not had the "lady" innovation for a long time. These lady attendants will assist patrons in finding desirable seats and cater to the patron in general.

NOTED BARITONE COMING.

Rivoli Theatre's Famed Soloist at Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Manager Perrine of the local playhouse is to be congratulated in securing for a two-day engagement Bently Ball, the noted baritone, who recently closed a long engagement at New York's finest motion picture house, the new Rivoli. Mr. Ball's smooth, finely phrased singing and lyric style, varied by flashes of dramatic intensity, will make a conquest of his hearers after his group of "Songs of Our Allies." Mr. Ball appears in addition to the usual picture program. No advance in prices. adv 11

It is requested that all wishing tickets for the banquet and who have not already purchased them do so before noon today.

NORMAL CLASS DAY

$300 in Liberty Bonds Presented to the School After Excellent Program Was Given—Alumni Rejoice Officers—Reception.

Three hundred dollars in Liberty bonds, to be held until after the war and then converted into a suitable memorial, was the gift of the Class of 1918 to the Oneonta State Normal school at the Class Day exercises held in the chapel yesterday morning.

The gift was presented by Miss Gertrude M. Lance and received by Prof. Arthur M. Curtis for the faculty. It followed the presentation of an excellent program by the students as follows:

President's address. Miss Grace Margara Brady.

Class history. Miss Eleanor Southard Kittell.

Class poem. Miss Charlotte A. Mereness.

Piano solo—Grieg's "Gay Butterflies." Miss Dorothy M. Allen.

Class Prophecy. Miss Antonette N. Dykeman.

Grinds. Miss Elizabeth A. Byrnes.

Class Oration. Miss Emily F. Brady.

Vocal solo—Hehn's "In Summer." Miss Mary A. Vought.

Presentation of Class gift. Miss Gertrude M. Lance.

Yesterday afternoon, the Alumni association of the Normal school met in the chapel and after the usual brief business session, re-elected the following officers:

President, Frank Gurney; vice president, Mrs. I. J. Bookhout; and secretary-treasurer, Prof. A. M. Curtis.

Last evening the presidents of the various societies formed a reception committee and welcomed friends and relatives to the students. A dance followed later in the gymnasium.

Seminary Student Dies for Country. Roy Traver Crusius, a student at Hartwick Seminary, and a nephew of Dr. J. G. Traver, died at Madison Barracks on Thursday, June 5. Mr. Crusius, who was 20 years of age, was enlisted in the Medical corps by the Cooperstown postmaster last winter. Death was due to pneumonia.

The funeral was held at his home at Rhinebeck and the newspaper of that town speaks in highest praise of his character and popularity.

Farm at auction—Sixty acres good land, three miles from Laurens, large basement barn and large house, good die. Terms, 10 per cent down, balance in 30 days. Thursday, June 20, 3:30 p. m., front of War's store, Laurens. Franklin C. Keyes, attorney. adv 21

CANVASS FOR W. S. S.

Head of Every Family to Be Asked to Declare How Many He Will Buy in Year.

The meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night to arrange for the approaching drive on War Savings stamps resulted in plans being discussed and adjournment taken to Friday night for further organization.

It is the purpose of the government to have a systematic canvass made and a definite statement from every head of the family as to the number of War Savings stamps that will be purchased during the balance of the year. Headquarters will be maintained in the post office. Those who fail to make their declaration or statements as to the quantity of stamps to be purchased will be cited to appear at the federal building on June 28.

President Wilson and Governor Whitman have both issued proclamations and Mayor Ceperley also has agreed to act in harmony with the requests that all city executives and presidents of villages urge the co-operation of the people within the confines of their jurisdiction to get behind the sale of War Savings stamps. Almost every city and hamlet in the state is now organized to carry forward this work and Oneonta will prove no exception to other cities.

OPPORTUNITY FOR ENLISTMENT.

Registrants Not Included in List Enrolled June 5 Wanted For Schools.

Announcement has been received by the Local Exemption board that opportunity for enlistment will be given to and including June 21 to all registrants not including those recently of age and registered on June 5 last to enlistment for apprentice schools which have been established at Jersey City, Buffalo, Troy, New York, and Yonkers, where they will be given six weeks of training as plumbers, tin-smiths, sheet metal workers, auto mechanics, carpenters, machinists, bench woodworkers.

This opportunity is open to white men physically qualified for general service and possessing at least a grammar school education, with some experience along mechanical lines and some aptitude for mechanical work.

There remain but two days in which this opportunity is open, hence all interested must act at once. Those accepted will leave July 1.

It is not known in which branch of the service the men will be assigned after graduating, it being dependent upon which branch is then in need of men. It is expected that after completing the course they will be assigned at once to overseas duty. The men will be given instruction in class room, in shop work and in military training.

CAPT. MILLARD GIVES OUTING.

Men Visit Points of Interest about Fortress Monroe and the Beach.

Captain J. A. Millard, in command of the 101st Field bakery, stationed at Camp Stuart, Va., gave his men a day's outing on June 13, which proved a great treat, the men visiting points of interest about Fortress Monroe and Buckroe Beach, the latter being a fine summer resort with all the latest amusement features. The day was well enjoyed by all, especially by George Thomas, who, however, lost out finally when the supply sergeant became acquainted. All felt very grateful to Captain Millard and a vote of thanks was tendered him by the men.

Big Truck Horses in Runaway.

Startled in some unknown way, the heavy team of the Oneonta Grocery company hauled to a large delivery truck, last evening dashed from in front of J. N. Holmes' store on Maple street and across the side walk on the west side, breaking off a fire hydrant at the base in their run. They then hauled the wagon between a telephone pole and a tree, along Center street for a couple of hundred feet, when they turned in across a number of lawns and came out behind the house at Center and Elm streets, where they were stopped when the tongue of the truck struck a tree. One of the horses was slightly cut. No one was on the wagon at the time.

Red Cross Enrollment.

In answer to numerous inquiries Dr. A. H. Brownell wishes The Star to state that women desiring to enroll in the training department for Red Cross nurses must be between the ages of 21 and 35 years and have at least a high school education. Applicants should communicate with Miss Annie Goodrich, Dean, War Department, Washington, D. C.

D. F. Layman, who had been spending a short furlough with his parents at 23 High street, returned yesterday to his duties at Camp Devens, at Ayer, Mass.

Prof. Harry G. VanDeusen of Sayre, Pa., who in September becomes principal of the Oneonta High school, was a caller in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Jennie Tilley, who had been spending the past six months in McVernon, returned last evening and will spend some time with her son, Edward Tilley, here.

Miss Ruth King of East Worcester attended the opera at the Normal school Tuesday evening, returning home yesterday. She was the guest of Miss Louise Warner while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Flynn and children of 10 River street departed Wednesday for a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends on the Champlain division, between Plattsburg and Rouse's Point.

Mrs. Fred Schrader and Mrs. James Renshaw, who had been guests of the former's son, Harry Schrader, 15 Morton avenue, departed yesterday for a visit in Scranton on their way to their home in Hazelton, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen B. Watson of Prospect are guests of Donald Firman, 21 Myrtle avenue, and attending the Normal commencement exercises. Their daughter, Miss Bernice Watson, is a member of this year's graduating class.

Miss Ethel Edmunds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edmunds, has resigned her position with the Bell Telephone company and left yesterday for Watervliet, where she has accepted a position with the government arsenal in a clerical capacity.

Mrs. A. D. Lowell and son, Mark Lowell, of Chicago, Ill., are guests at the home of Congressman and Mrs. G. W. Fairchild. Mark Lowell is a member of the class of 1918, Hamilton college, in which institution he made an excellent record, being one of the honor students of the class.

Ralph Lake, formerly of Oneonta, whose home is at Binghamton, but who is now in training with the Medical corps at Camp Beauregard in Louisiana, returned to Binghamton last evening, after a visit with friends here accompanied by his sister, Miss Eva Lake, and friend, Miss Mary McGowan, both of Binghamton, who also had been visiting friends here.

Sherman Fairchild, who had been in Arizona for several months, arrived home yesterday, and will probably remain here for some time. His many friends will be glad to know that his health is much improved and there is every reason to expect his complete restoration. While he expects to spend the summer at home, it is probable that he will return to Tucson in the autumn.

Mrs. Permelia Wilcox Expires.

Milford, June 18.—(Special)—Mrs. Permelia Wilcox died at her home in this village tonight at 7:30 o'clock. She was the mother of the late John Wilcox, for many years Mayor and publisher of the Oneonta Times. Further announcement will be made in the next issue of The Star.

THE PLAYGROUND OF ONEONTA

How Neah-wa park looks to the traveler on his way is indicated by an article in a late number of Motorom, the official organ of the State Automobile association. Accompanying the article, which is given herewith, are two park views, one of them of the wide expanse of tree-shaded meadow and the other of the pavilion erected a year or so ago. Says Motorom:

Neah-wa park was dedicated to public use by Lewis H. Morris of Morris, N. Y., who was never a resident of Oneonta. At his request, it received the name of "Neah-wa," being the common Iroquois expression of thankfulness. Perhaps, some day when the value and spirit of the gift are more fully appreciated, it will be rechristened "Neah-wa," meaning great thanks. About a hundred acres of park land, it has likewise some historic interest. In old times, the river flowing further westward than it does today, turned against the high bank to the north and east and passed nearly through the present center of the park. Its course can still be traced. On the ancient right bank, where now stands the gas house, was an Indian occupation, which has afforded many relics, including a fine clay pipe. Probably the river had the same course when past this point, the same as it is now.

The old Indian trail from Cherry Valley to Oneonta and Wyoming, following what is now Main street of Oneonta, crossed the river, between the west boundary of the park and the bridge, to the high ground on the south side of the Susquehanna. Undoubtedly Butler's Rangers went by this trail to Cherry Valley in the foray against that place in 1778, for a brass cockade bearing the inscription "Butler's Rangers" was found on the high ground just beyond the bridge. The following year the Brice boys, in captivity to a small Iroquois war party, passed this point on the way to the Ganess valley, where one of them ran the gauntlet four times, though with little ill-treatment on any occasion. The first mill in Oneonta was built just to the right of the entrance to the park. On the cliff opposite stood one of the oldest houses of the town, perhaps the oldest. And there was born the first white child, Polly VanDerwerker. Later larger power was employed and the place was known as McDonald's Mills.

As the town grew, the present park became a favorite strolling spot and picnic ground, abounding in wild flowers and nut trees. Through the generosity of Dr. Morris, it is dedicated to such uses for all time. In this park, the entrance of which is at the foot of the viaduct on Main street, Oneonta invites motorists to rest when passing through the city.

MARRIAGES.

Utter-Moylan.

Lieut. Clyde D. Utter, son of W. W. Utter, 17 Eighth street, this city, was married to Miss Mildred M. Moylan of Jersey City at Slingerlands last Monday, June 17. Lieut. Utter, whose home was in New York city, is attached to the 692nd engineers stationed at Camp Devens.

The bride and groom are at present in Oneonta visiting his folks in a five-day furlough. They will leave on Friday to make a brief visit at Jersey City, after which Mrs. Utter will take up her residence near the camp to remain until her husband is ordered abroad.

The lieutenant will be remembered by many friends in this city.

To Morris for Burial.

The body of Hon. Walter L. Bunn, who died at his home at Richmond Hill, on February 4, will be brought to his old home in Morris for interment on Sunday, June 29, at 3 p. m. The funeral will be in charge of the Masonic fraternity, and it is expected that many of Mr. Bunn's friends, both Masons and others, will be in attendance.

Their Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

Justice and Mrs. Abraham L. Kellogg have sent out cards to their many friends announcing Friday, June 21, as the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. While there will be no special observance of the occasion, Justice and Mrs. Kellogg will be informally "at home" on the afternoon and evening of the day at their residence, 29 Ford avenue.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Manganese Citrate, Lungs and Soda Glycophosphates, Casein.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

QUEEN OF EQUESTRIENNES

May Wirth, Greatest of All Bareback Riders, with Ringling Brothers Circus, Has Attractive Canvas Home With a Carpeted Veranda.

Stars of the sand and ring-banks have their minds and dressing rooms as well as those of the footlights and stage. She of the "Map and Apron" may be very like the maid who waits upon my lady of the theatre. But the dressing room—well, that is quite a different affair.

There are various dressing tents in the behind-the-scenes portion of the Ringling Brothers' circus which is to exhibit here next Monday. One is used solely by the hundreds of ballet girls who dance in the gigantic spectacle, "In Days of Old." Another, under one great canvas roof but divided into compartments after the fashion of a giant honky-comb, accommodates more than 100 lady performers. Still another is set apart for the male contingent. The clowns have a tent to themselves as do they who take part in the wild-west portion of the arena program. To these must be added the colony which is made up of small "boys" fitted with windows and awnings much like the tents one sees at a summer resort. These are occupied by the "stars among stars." May Wirth, greatest of all bareback riders, is mistress of an attractive canvas home with scalloped eaves and a carpeted veranda.

To be accorded this luxury and privilege in circusdom one must be among those who have achieved great things. May Wirth has surpassed all other equestriennes. Her wonderful forward and backward somersaults on the back of a galloping horse; her marvelous jumps from the ground to the back of a steed running at swiftest pace with her feet tied in 18-inch baskets, and her many other remarkable attainments as a rider have gained her a place among the elect. Miss Wirth is but 20 years old. Being young she loves the sunshine and prefers to "make up" in the lee of her tented home. So, having conned silks and spangles, she goes to a dressing table in the open air and there her maid adds the finishing touches to her toilet.

Former Otsego Pastor Honored.

Rev. James B. Clapperton of Saundersville, Mass., has recently received the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from his alma mater, Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa. Dr. Clapperton graduated from college in 1866 and has been in the ministry 50 years. He was pastor of the United Presbyterian church in Burlington and Garrettsville several years and his many friends in Otsego and Delaware extend congratulations.

Off for Convention.

Colonel Walter Scott and L. B. Lennon of the directorate of the Oneonta Building and Loan association departed yesterday afternoon for Schenectady, to attend the State League of Building and Loan associations in that city. They will extend an invitation to the league to hold its next annual meeting in this city. About 10 delegates attend and it is hoped that Oneonta will be selected.

POWDER IN SHOES.

Foot-Ease to Be Added to Equipment of Hospital Corps at Fort Wayne.

Under the above heading the Detroit Free Press says: "The theory is that soldiers whose feet are in good condition can walk farther and faster than soldiers who have corns and bunions located in rawhide."

The Plattsburg Camp Manual advises men in training to shake Foot-Ease in their shoes each morning.

One war relief committee reports of all the things sent out in their comfort kits. Allen's Foot-Ease received the most praise. It is used by American, French and British troops, because it takes the friction from the shoes and freshens the feet. There is no foot comforter equal to Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath, the standard remedy for over 25 years for hot, tired, aching, perspiring, smarting, swollen, tender feet, corns, bunions, blisters or callouses.

Derailment; Ponies for Clarks.

Train No. 311, which is due to arrive in Oneonta at 8:25 p. m. was delayed 45 minutes last night by a derailment of a freight at Dyes, near Sanataria Springs. A pusher engine jumped the track while helping a train up the hill just out of Binghamton.

On the train were two express cars of polo ponies consigned to the Clarks of Cooperstown from Long Island dealer, shipped by way of Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Williamsport, Elmira and Binghamton.

Social and Supper at Emmons.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Emmons Methodist Episcopal church will hold a supper and social in the church parlors Friday evening, June 21. Ice cream will be on sale at the booth, also on the church lawn in the afternoon. The supper will be under the supervision of Mrs. George Macchester, assisted by Miss Vania Osterhout. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
